

ABSTRACT

A mouse device for providing a computer input for a display. The mouse device includes first and second input elements, and at least one selection element. The first 5 input element generates position signals of a cursor on the display in response to movement of the first input element. The selection element enables selection of at least one item on the display. The second input element generates signals providing alphanumeric input capability.

10